JAWS® Just Add Water System

Built for the FOOD SERVICE INDUSTRY

Every successful food service operation holds sanitation and cleaning above all other activities. The challenge most face is that of storage space for the tools that allow superior cleaning performance and maximum food safety for their patrons. The critical decision is to determine if expensive space-robbing RTU cleaners and sanitizers which require no mixing should be purchased or if concentrated chemistries that employ expensive, undependable dilution control centers that require plumbing regulations and large amounts of wall space are the answer. Finally, the need for concern is over with the introduction of our WAXIE JAWS (Just Add Water System) that delivers the power of clean right at the faucet! The user simply adds potable water to their spray bottle from any location, pops in the cartridge and begins cleaning! It's that easy to train, use, and store. Allows highly accurate no chemical contact mixing!
